

British Genealogical Record Users Committee
1881 CENSUS PROJECT
Reported "Mistakes"

[Editors Note: August 2003- After a long delay the Society of Genealogists is publishing on behalf of the British Genealogical Record Users Committee the final collection of reported "mistakes" in the 1881 census project. The errors were reported before the project was available on CD-ROM so the reports where they were found refer to the fiche copy. Within this document fiche are sometimes referenced by colour or letters as follows: Red - surname index(SI); Yellow - as enumerated(AE); Green - birthplace index(BI); Brown - miscellaneous notes, institutions and shipping]

The 1881 Project was a joint effort by all those involved with the activities of the Federation of Family History Societies which includes in its membership both the Genealogical Society of Utah and the Society of Genealogists as well as all its regional, nominal and specialist interest members. The project was proposed by the GSU at a meeting of the British Genealogical Record Users' Committee in 1985 and the lion's share of the organisation was undertaken by them.

As the county fiche of this vast project became available, people felt the need to report 'mistakes', not as a criticism, but as an aid to others trying to find the same entry. Inevitably, with a project of this size there will be some errors due to handwriting illegibility, mis-transcription, careless checking and inputting and the poor quality of the originals. The collection of reported mistakes is not large and it may be that many have never got around to sending theirs in. Some people have expected us to correct the published fiche which is, of course, quite impractical and in any case upon investigation these alleged errors quite often turn out to be genuine and accurate entries. Accordingly the British Genealogical Record Users Committee have decided that the best way to make this information available, since it was not practical to incorporate it into the fiche themselves, nor is it intended to correct the CD-ROM version, is to publish a list of submitted 'errors'.

These reports are only alleged errors, have not been checked against the original and are published here in case interested users would like to be informed of potential misinterpretation of the original documents. One obvious place name error which was checked because it was puzzling, shows that a parish well known in one county is repeated in another county where it is hardly known by those who research in that county constantly - or someone who lived there for seventeen years!

Some correspondents sent in photocopies either of the fiche frame or the census microfilm or even both, which enabled me to see that there was indeed a transcription error. Some only sent in inadequate notes and partial references so that what was reported as an error may well have been a perfectly valid transcription of what the enumerator had recorded. Others sent in masses of photocopies of other documents to prove that they knew the correct spelling of their surname. This was never in doubt. What we were trying to identify was cases where the transcription or inputting had been at fault - from what was recorded in the census. Others know from other unspecified sources that a fact stated in the census return is wrong and have asked us to correct it so others can benefit from the more accurate knowledge. We are not concerned with enumerator's mistakes as we were only indexing what one could find on the census and not what one hoped to find. A faithfully transcribed enumerator's error is no mistake at all. There are, however, some genuine mistakes. Some are so slight that they will not prevent a user from finding the information they seek. Others may lead to confusion.

Anyone who has worked with a database will know that whichever way you sort the data, all the data will follow the leader when resorted. In spite of this some items have been reported as missing from the indexes which would seem to be physically impossible. A check has been done on just these items - not many of them - and the solution to one or two was found but not to others. This instance has to be a technicality due to the character of the computer being rightly described as an 'intelligent idiot' - in other words beyond our control.

BIRTHPLACE ERRORS

In Ecclesfield in Yorkshire on p33327/28 AE both Sheffield and Barnsley are placed in Staffordshire by mistake in the birth place column at the bottom of one page and at the top of the next

Halstead is put in Sussex (p09723 of the AE) for the whole page even though Halstead is the place in Essex being enumerated

There are 106 instances where the birthplace is given as Southampton, Hertfordshire - 97 of them the census place is Southampton, Hampshire. This concerns RG11 1214 f7 - 22. The others appear in census places Aldershot, Portsea and Winchester. Similarly there are 4 Christchurch, 1 Bournemouth, 10 Winchester, 1 Aldershot and 13 Portsmouth birth places listed as being in Hertfordshire but the census place is Southampton, Hampshire. These again appear in RG11 Piece 1215 folios 7 - 22.

Birthplaces of the Thompson family in Tynemouth (RG11/5081 f72) are reputed to be written wrongly by the transcribers, probably some of them are the fault of the enumerator but the corrections are listed here:-

FORENAMES

There have been several reported sightings of wrong, sometimes very slightly wrong, forenames. This can mean that the entry is thrown to another part of the list of the same surnames but unless you are seeking a Smith or Jones it is not difficult when the expected name is not found to scan the rest of the entries to see if anything listed could have been wrongly interpreted and trying that instead, so the very few 'mistakes' of this nature which were sent in e.g. Milford should be Wilfred, have not been included. One that was submitted was a Richard entered by the enumerator as Robert and, therefore, quite correctly transcribed. Solution - if you do not find the expected forename under the surname index, look for another forename in the same family group, make a note of its reference and look down the reference column for the same or adjacent reference. A look at the 'as enumerated' fiche should show the group all together and will identify where the enumerator has recorded the wrong information.

An analysis of the few 'errors' received shows that although a few are genuine mistakes, perhaps on the part of enumerator, or relate to forenames or initials which we did not intend to include and some entries appear to be missing from the fiche, most of the mistakes received related to common transcription errors because the transcriber had to struggle with difficult handwriting.

The standard transcription difficulties relate to: a for o, l for s, nn for m, e for s at the end of a word, ll for tt, n for w, y for p, Capital R for K, w for vi, k for h, and confusions between vowels. These are not regarded as mistakes though they can divert a searcher from the correct part of the index. A transcriber, not knowing what should be there, transcribes what he or she reads and if it is difficult to read, makes the best of it. If they fall into standard traps such as the ones listed above, who is to know which way to jump. All the common errors listed above can work both ways. In many instances the incorrect reading of an entry does not mean that the name is severely misplaced in the index. In some of the cases reported the 'mistakes' would have meant that even if correctly transcribed, the entry would have remained in the same place. It is the first four or five letters which count. Obviously the first letter is the most important, but the importance decreases the further one gets into a word when indexing. If you are relying on the census as your only evidence of a person's name then all the letters are important, but if you have other evidence, as you should, the incorrect entry will not deter you.

MISSING NAMES

There are several reasons why people cannot be found in census returns. Folios may be missing from the original census or pages are missing from the film. In the case of the Project, forenames and surnames may have been transposed, the handwriting may have been illegible or the enumerator may not have spelt the surname correctly so it has been faithfully transcribed under another spelling and is not missing at all.

The following names have been omitted from the Census Project but may be found under the relevant reference.

*but included on yellow fiche

Names relating to houses at 171 and 173 Stewarts Road, Battersea, Surrey (0654 f63 Pp34) appear to have been omitted from the As Enumerated fiche p14135 which leaps from 169 to 175 Stewarts Road.

With regard to RG11 2358 Brompton Regis (also known as Kings Brompton,) Somerset the first 10 pages of this village appear to have been omitted from the 1881 Project.

With regard to the surname index for Yorkshire, there is a gap from Bowes, Annie (fiche 13) to Brain, James (fiche 14) - intermediate names are missing.

The Miscellaneous fiche include items which would not fit into the input field on the database and anything extra added by the enumerator or the Supervisor which appears on the film but which does not fit into the transcription format.

With regard to the surnames Loveridge and Lverage, a number of errors have been found with these names appearing as Laveredge, Laveridge, Lavridge, Lauridg/Lawridg, Leverage, Leveragge, Leveredge, Leveridge, Leverigde, Levridge, Liveraedge, Liverage, Liveredger, Liveridge, Liverridge, Lovridge, Loveage, Lovandge, Lverage, Loveiage, Lovenage, Lovendge, Loveradge, Lverage, Loveredge, Loveage, Lovericke, Loverige, Lovreg, Lovridge, Lowrage, Lowridge, Luridge, Lurridge, Luveridge.

One person has looked for Margaret Moran and her family in Staffordshire but has been unable to trace them there. She has also tried Cheshire and Warwickshire without success. She has also tried under variants - Moran, Moren, Morin, Morran, Morren, Morrin, Morhan, Morhen, Morhin, Morehan, Morehen and Morehin.

One contributor, doing a one-name study, itemised approximately 250 people who were expected to be found in the census for that year but as yet have not been located. Some of them admittedly were known to be abroad, either with the army or at sea. Others are simply listed as away from home by their wives. So far this list has not been checked against the national sort, when some more may be found. There are thirty-five spelling variations of his surname so the potential for mislocation is very large.

Several items are reported as being missing from the indexes but can be found on the As Enumerated fiche or have been found on the microfilm but not in the indexes. In this case you need to look for the PRO reference in the AE fiche and discover how the family surname has been interpreted so you can prove they are in the indexes. This has come to light because many people have already found their family in the 1881 returns and have only been double checking the index as they explored it. The entry is probably there but the name appears in the indexes under another spelling.

Where an entry in the indexes is not found in the 'as enumerated' fiche, it is probably because the arrangement of the 'as enumerated' fiche is not strictly in the order of the original documents. This is because the sorting of the 'as enumerated' fiche is led by the place name of the place being enumerated and not by the PRO references. Where a place is scattered - and they often are - they have been artificially brought together, which clarifies in one sense but confuses in another. Some places in a registration district were sometimes physically in another county than the one of the bulk of the RD, so they were collected with another county sort e.g. parts of Barnet registration district are in Herts. instead of Middx and those places will be in the Herts county sort. The National sort solves this problem.

INCONSISTENCIES

People found on the film that are not on the fiche.

William M. Read and his family living in St Pancras can be found on the microfilm for RG11/290 f 90 but neither they, nor their servants, are on the census fiche. On the As Enumerated fiche this folio and folios 89 and 91 do not appear. Normally when three folios are missing in the sequence it means these are common form pages at the beginning of each enumeration district but it would seem that in this case it is not so.

McVaye, James is indexed in the surname index for Durham p 10050 but the other members of his family are not, even though they appear in the As Enumerated under RG 11/4914 f68

Malcolm Duncan McAlpine is not in the name index for Lancashire but he is visible in the As Enumerated in RG 11/3716 f137 p13785 in Liverpool Seamen's Orphan Institution

Robert and Jane Ronald cannot be found in East Cramlington according to one reporter but he didn't send in a reference. They may be on RG11/5117 f115 in Pegswood but it wasn't possible to check what happened here without the original source of the reporter's information.

One person reported that in the Census place index for Yorkshire - fiche 68 ends Longbottoms in Ossett and p31032, fiche 69 begins Lucas, Leeds and p31281. They conclude there are 249 missing pages. But are there? It was impossible to unravel this one.

'As enumerated fiche' for Middlesex all RG11/1370 is reported as missing. No it isn't missing. It does not fall between RG11/1369 and RG11/1371 because the places in that piece number are in Herts. and have been sorted into that county

One as enumerated fiche is listed under a miscellaneous county and appears to be an institution in what is described as RG11/5643 but the piece numbers in this class do not go up that high; the last piece number is 5632. It just could be that some unplaced fragments were in an 'artificial' piece number and were filmed and so therefore included in the project even though their whereabouts is unknown. One can only hazard a guess that it is a barracks in Surrey.

It is not, therefore, possible to accept any reported error as being a genuine error. You need to keep an open mind and regard the mention as simply a possibility of error which needs a check before being pronounced as a genuine mistake. If you look at the surnames reported above, you can see that some are fairly unusual names and a more common name was transcribed because the handwriting was difficult and that was the nearest the transcriber could get to the truth without having met the correct surname in the course of their experience.

The project includes 26 million plus names. 1% of that is 260,000 names and you will see that I have listed nothing like that quantity. The quantity of mistakes found, although undoubtedly larger than those here published, will be nothing like 260,000 judging by the correspondence received. That is a remarkable achievement.

Finally, it is worth bearing in mind that all the above 'mistakes' although confusing did not prevent the contributors actually finding the family they were looking for!!!!!!!

It is probable that, inevitably, this publication will prompt people to report what they have found even though they have not got around to sending it in so far. If you would like to submit a presumed error where it applies to surnames and birthplaces, please make sure that it includes the full PRO reference, the page number and type of fiche and not just the correct entry but also the incorrect one.

We do not intend to publish another leaflet such as the last one but you may be able to get reported "mistakes" published in the many genealogical publications now on the market.
